

Headline	What's wrong if I'm...?
Date	24 May 2005
Media Title	Today	Section
Page No	8	Size	1colx

What's wrong if I'm ... ?

Can you spot the grammatical error in this cardboard sign, which can be seen at most MRT stations? Caught up in the spirit of the recently-launched Speak Good English Movement 2005, TODAY sub-editor Rafal Venkit snapped this shot.

A spokesman for the British Council confirmed that the right way of phrasing the message should be: "Mummy, I'm more than 0.9m tall."