

Publication :	Today
Date :	11 November 2006
Journalist :	Denyse Tessensohn
Headline:	Say It Right

Say It Right

by Denyse Tessensohn

Winner!

"Azure" means "blue". In Mediaeval Latin it is "azura" and in Old French it is "azur".

The word derives from Persian "lajward" describing lapis lazuli; in Arabic it is "al-lazaward".

I was overwhelmed by the number of detailed entries for this rather esoteric Challenge, which just shows how erudite you all are! And thank you for introducing me to new delightful poetry with the word "azure" mentioned.

This week's winner is Sara Ang.

Congratulations!

A book prize will be awarded for the earliest correct entry for the monthly challenge.

Email us at sayitright@newstoday.com.sg